Logline:

In this inspirational drama, a down-to-earth girl next door's world is turned upside down when she piques the interest of a rough-around-the-edges men's club president.

Synopsis:

Josephine, having just lost her mother, is now responsible for managing her late mother's flower shop. Overwhelmed by it all, she attempts to get back into the normal swing of things in her small town, with the help of her bff Marcus. An intriguing new gentleman suddenly moves to town for his own familial reasons. Mike, a rough around the edges men's club president, visits her shop one day for a simple bouquet of flowers. Both of their once comfortable worlds are immediately turned upside down in this unconventional drama, romance.
