

Title: Happy family

Logline: When her ex-wife dies under mysterious circumstances, a woman finds herself trapped in a web of lies and suspicion, as she tries to prove her innocence and protect her newfound love.

Synopsis:

Victoria Kensington has finally found happiness with Alex, her new partner. But the past comes back to haunt her when Sarah, her obsessed ex-wife, is found dead. Circumstantial evidence paints a damning picture: fingerprints, threatening messages, an apparent motive. Victoria is arrested, accused of murder.

As Victoria fights to prove her innocence, she must confront the secrets of her past and a relentless detective convinced of her guilt. Alex, determined not to abandon her, desperately seeks the truth.

But the truth is more complex than it seems. Sarah wasn't murdered, but died accidentally from anaphylactic shock. A tragic mistake that further complicates Victoria's situation.

Through intense interrogations, plot twists, and shocking revelations, Victoria and Alex must fight for their freedom and their love, while trying to uncover the truth behind Sarah's death.

Key Elements:

- * Psychological thriller with elements of romantic drama and legal drama.
- * Complex and ambiguous characters.
- * Plot full of twists and turns and tension.
- * Themes of obsession, forgiveness, and second chances.
- * An intense and passionate love story.

Target Audience:

- * Fans of psychological thrillers and romantic dramas.
- * Audiences seeking compelling stories and memorable characters.
- * Viewers interested in LGBTQ+ themes.

Potential:

- * Successful film or TV series, with a strong emotional impact.
- * Possibility to further explore the characters and their stories in potential sequels or spin-offs.
- * Adaptation for the international market, thanks to its thematic universality.